The Havens clan of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by all records and traditions came to the area from Virginia. In 1773, one John Havens and his sons, John, Jr., and Joel, received a lease for one hundred acres of land located in Frederick Co., VA., from Thomas, Lord Fairfax. However, the American Revolution brought Virginia under American law and threw all the leases into litigation. The 1782 census of Frederick County, VA., listed John Havens, Sr., in a family of eight and John Havens, Jr., in a family of three with no other Havens families in this Virginia census. The official records skip some twenty years where one John Havens had record of a land entry, dated 1802, on the Pascagoula River. This John Havens, known to his descendants as "Grandpap" Havens, is designated in these chronicles and John Havens III."

Inside page:

Opening poem:

Miss Me

Miss me . . . but let me go When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me, I want
no rites in a gloom-filled room.
Why worry for a soul set free?
Miss me . . . a little, but not too long
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that you once shared.
Miss me . . . but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take and each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick at heart
Go to the friends we know and bury your sorrow in doing good deeds
Miss me . . . but let me go.

Maybe it is just a coincidence, but my John Shepherd Havens (Madison Co., Fla.) lived to be 96 years old. Daddy (George W. Havens), lived to age 82, and he has a first cousin still living, Mrs. Mae Havens Bush, who is 90 years old.

I realize your Virginia Havins spelled their name with an i, but doesn't the spelling of a surname get changed, or have variations? I note from your letter that you have a lot on the Virginia Havins. Would greatly appreciate any copies you could share with me (on them)- at my expense, of course.

Can you tell me more about your Havins reunion? After I gather more data on my Havens branch and, hopefully, am able to document it, I plan to give it to several state archives, and the National Archives. Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Havens Kocher

P. S. Four days after I discovered my Havens family was descended from the Frederick Co., Va. Havenses (1773), I read in yesterday's Sunday Tampa Tribune that Elizabeth Bayley Seton (1774-1821), canonized as the first American-born saint by Pope Paul yesterday, founded an order of Catholic nuns in a convent at Emmitsburg, Md., a tiny community not too far from Frederick Co., Va. She was an Episcopalian converted to Catholicism.

The Reverend Henry W. Havens, Jr.
The Church of Our Saviour
P. O. Box 73
Sandston, Virginia 23150.

Reverend Havens:

Thank you for your letter of March 25th; and for the included Havens family data.

Enclosed is a list of church records, most of which are on file in the Virginia State Archives (V.S.A.). A look at the map shows that Sandston is not far distant from Richmond.

We hope that you will find it possible, at different times, to make a check of some of the records included.

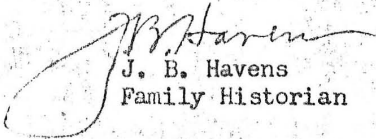

Havens families were living in Colonial Virginia in a number of counties in the 1700's; Frederick County, Fauquier County, Westmoreland County, and also in the Montgomery, Fincastle, Wythe, Botetourt areas; which at that time was known as old Augusta county & possibly also Bedford. And maybe one or two more locations which I do not have at my fingertips today.

You will want to be on the look-out for any and all baptismal, christening, marriage; or any mention of the name. CAUTION: In those days spellings were mostly phonetic; so it appears as Havens, Haven, Heavins, Heavin, Havins, Havin; and sometimes Heavens, and sometimes as Heaven. So be careful and not overlook any spellings.

At this moment; we are not particularly concerned with any records after about 1800.

I hope that you will maintain an interest in our Havens family lines; and that you will advise me of your findings, as you proceed.

Sincerely,

J. B. Havens
Family Historian

Our son, James B. Havens, his wife, & 2 children are now living in Singapore. We are finding Havens in many states of the U.S.; and in a number of foreign countries.

Pascagoula, Miss. 39567

Dear Mrs. Krebs,

Thank you so much for your letter with enclosed copies from Four Centuries on the Pascagoula. Yes, I believe "my" Havens clan are connected with those in Miss.

In the 1880 Madison Co., Fla. census, "Ellaville Precinct", John Shepherd Havens (I) is listed, age 62, born in Ga., father born in Md., Dwelling No. 251. In the same census, same Precinct, a Green Berry Havens is listed, age 32, born in Ga., wife, Cornelia, Dwelling 158.

In the 1850 census for same, Green Berry is listed as son of John Shepherd Havens. I notice that on Page 200 of Four Centuries on the Pascagoula a Green Berry Havens is listed - b. 1880, m. Laura Raven. If that is a coincidence it certainly is one - with such an unusual name. However, many of the male given names of the Miss. family appear in my Havens branch in South Ga.-North Fla. -- Henry, John, William, Walter, James.

I have only been able to get back as far as Andrew Havens, 1813, Ga., in my family. He was father of John Shepherd Havens above. (see, I)

I would appreciate your mailing me any data you might find on the Havens in the Genealogical Society's file at the library. Please let me know if I should send you money for copies.

Thank you,

Dear Mrs. Foster,

I wrote you in March, 1974, regarding Havens ancestry, and received your prompt reply, notwithstanding your very busy schedule. Within the last week I have found what I believe to be a "breakthrough", or connecting link in my Havens line. I recently wrote Pascagoula, Miss. regarding the early Havens clan there, of which I knew a little, and which you mentioned in your March 17, 1974, reply to me.

You also mentioned the book Four Centuries on the Pascagoula. I know you, as a Virginia Havens descendant, and a genealogist, are familiar with the following, which appears on Page 197, Vol. II (author Cyril Edward Cain), but may I quote it for your convenience:

"The Havens clan of the Miss. Gulf Coast by all records and traditions came to this area from Va. ...

In 1773, one John Havens and his sons, John, Jr., and Joel, received a lease for 100 acres of land located in Frederick County, Va., from Thomas Lord Fairfax.

... The 1782 census of Frederick Co., Va. listed John Havens, Sr., in a family of 8 and John Havens, Jr., in a family of 3 with no other Havens families in this Va. census. Then the official records skip some 20 years and from Va. to the Miss. Gulf Coast where one John Havens had record of a land entry, dated 1802, on the Pascagoula River. This John Havens, known to his descendants as "Grandpap" Havens, is designated in these chronicles as John Havens, III.

From John Havens, III, and his children, the story has been handed down of the trek of John Havens, Jr. and his family, from Northern Virginia to the Gulf Coast between the years 1782 and 1800, when his youngest child, Elizabeth Flurry, was born. He died soon thereafter. This southward movement seems to have taken several years, farming year by year searching for a permanent location; just when it began and when it ended is not known except within the limitations indicated. During this period the children had increased from 1 to 11."

My line: Elizabeth Havens Kocher (the writer); ^{Geo. W. Havens, father,} Henry Pinkerton Havens, grandfather; William G. Havens, great grandfather; Andrew Havens, great, great grandfather, born 1788-1793, married Lucy Nelson in Bulloch Co., Ga. in 1813; in War of 1812 (Ga.-1814), and as a soldier received land in Ga. Land Lotteries. He named his oldest son John Shepherd Havens (born 1818 in Effingham Co., Ga.). There also was a Thomas Havens in 1870 (~~or earlier~~) Madison Co., Fla. census, shown as age 52.

The 1870 and 1880 U. S. censuses for Madison Co., Fla. lists this John Shepherd Havens and his family, and gives the birthplace of his father (Andrew) as "Md.". A distant Havens cousin of mine told me that in her branch of my Havens family there is "hearsay" that some of our Havens ancestors "worked for a while in Pa." In the 1800 census for Bedford Co., Pa. Elisha, Jonathan and Moses Havens are listed.

As you know, part of southern Pa. was, at one time, in Colonial Va., and some of Colonial Virginia's records can be found in Pa. State Archives. John Havens III (Miss.) was from "Northern Va.", probably Frederick Co., and Bedford Co., Pa. is very close. My Andrew Havens was born in "Md.". Was John Havens III (Miss.) father of my Andrew (born 1788-1793)? John's youngest child, Elizabeth Flurry, was born in 1800- youngest of 11 children.

Male given names listed in the Miss. Havens clan in Four Centuries on the Pascagoula are very similar to ones in my South Ga.- North Fla. Havenses---John, William, Thomas, Henry, Richard, Walter. On Page 200 of the above-mentioned book (Vol. 2), there is a Green Berry Havens listed. John Shepherd Havens, son of my Andrew, named a son Green Berry Havens (Madison Co., Fla.).

The Miss. book (above) states that there is a gap of 20 years between the 1782 Frederick Co., Va. census listing and the appearance of John Havens III in Miss. I can't find a trace of my Andrew before his marriage date in 1813 in Bulloch Co., Ga. He lived in Effingham Co., Ga. (near Bulloch Co.) at the time of the 1820 census, which is next to S. C. It may be he was in S. C., also N. C., before he was in Ga., but I haven't found him yet. Is it possible John Havens III (Miss.) was in one or the other of the Carolinas before Miss.? I mentioned earlier, a distant cousin said some of our Havens "worked for a while in Pa." Were they all in Pa. before Miss.?- and before Ga.?--or maybe ^NTenn.? ALA?

Looking at a Feb. 1974, letter from Mrs. Lou Allie (Hamilton) Heath of Calif., I read that her ancestor, James Havens, married a Sarah Miller in 1790 in Greene Co., Tenn. Yes, they certainly did travel around, didn't they? (Her James Havens, and brother John, were sons of a John Havens, Virginia).

In your letter you mentioned that Mr. Howard Havens, author of The Havens Family in New Jersey, and who visited one of your Havens reunions, stated that the Virginia Havens were not related to the New Jersey Havens, who are descended from John Havens, son of William Havens (Generation 1, Eng. to R. I., 1635). In a book in the Tampa Mormon library (I have the title), on the early N. Y.-Mich. Havenses (descendants of Peter Havens, Rev. War patriot, himself a descendant of the same Wm. (Gen.1, R. I.)), it is stated that they are noted for "patriotism and longevity".

Rough Times for Heartsease

The 20th Century brought inevitable change. By 1911 Henry's daughters found the house and farm becoming a burden. In 1913 the property was sold to "William P. Richardson and others" and now Heartsease fell on evil days. The place passed in rapid succession to Payson Thompson, George A. Washington, Charles A. Knight, and in 1923 to Mary Hillman. Prior to the Hillman purchase the house had reverted to its former role as a tavern, but it was called by the less savory name of "roadhouse." One of these owners had converted two rooms on the right of the front door into one large room and had done other modernizing, destroying much period charm.

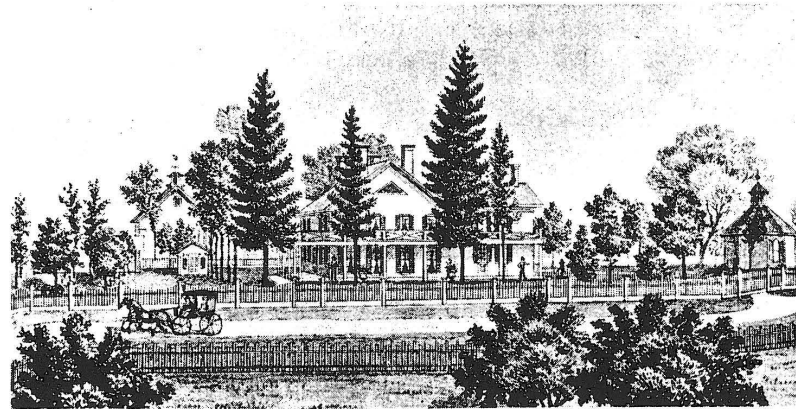

But help was at hand. In 1925 Heartsease was bought by an Island family, Frank B. Sherman and his wife Alice. They ran the place at first as a lodging house and finally as their home. For the next thirty-odd years Heartsease led a life of privacy and peace.

Alice Sherman to the Rescue

When in 1968 Mrs. Sherman, by then widowed, had the idea of selling the house to the newly organized Shelter Island Historical Society she met with an enthusiastic response. The Society bought the house, giving Mrs. Sherman life tenancy. On her death in 1971 the Society took occupancy and began extensive structural repairs and a long-term program of restoration.

Most of this awaits the completion of a barn to replace the lost one, seen at the left of our picture. Only then can the Society restore and furnish the house, continuing the work already begun on the second floor by the generosity and industry of the Shelter Island Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Gifts are tax-free. Checks payable to Shelter Island Historical Society may be addressed Box 122, Shelter Island, N.Y. 11964.

HEARTSEASE AND SUMMER RESIDENCE OF ASHER C. HAVENS, SHELTER ISLAND, SUFFOLK CO., L.I.

The James Havens House today looks much as it does in this Mid-Victorian view. But its history goes back another hundred years and this elegant-appearing residence had humbler beginnings.

William the Builder

During the summer of 1741 William Havens and his wife were expecting their first child. They were facing the problem of establishing a permanent home in which to raise a family. So now, on Havens property bought long before by his grandfather, William built a modest house, in preparation for the arrival of his first-born. James duly arrived on February 12, 1742, when the house was not quite finished. The final touches were added the following winter, hence the date of 1743 on the gable end today.

On William's death in 1763 James, aged 21, assumed management of the farm. James had married Elizabeth Bowditch and was the father of two sons and a daughter. He had started a store in this house and had expanded his activities to include a small school.

Since the original house was small, some expansion was soon necessary. We know that by 1769 the house was serving James as a store, a schoolroom, and a dwelling for a growing family. William's house did not include the two extensions, one of which appears to the right of the picture. The further one had no second floor and may have been store or school.

To call the place a store is a euphemism. Store it partly was, as the ledgers attest; but a major item coming in on ships from the Caribbean was rum. James usually sold this in bulk, but there are plenty of ledger entries for liquor consumed on the premises — such purchases as "a mug of flip," "a brandy sling," "a nip of grog." The house functioned as a tavern and is so designated in records.

James, Sea-Captain, Patriot

Into this genial household burst the Revolution. James, like many Islanders, took his family for safety to Connecticut, while he himself became active in the privateer service and the political field. He was chosen one of eight men representing Suffolk County in the New York Provincial Congress of 1776.

Havens kin remaining on the Island kept the farm partly secure from enemy raiding and the store staggered on with meager supplies and greatly reduced patronage. The Island was plagued with constant raids from enemy ships in Gardiner's Bay, and in 1781 marauding crews carried off from the house valuables and probably foodstuff.

At the close of hostilities in 1783 the family had all returned, to find their Island much ravaged, but there is no record of damage to the house itself. Between 1783 and 1785 it served as the site of the annual Town Meeting and once more the store and tavern functioned. Frothingham's Long-Island Herald, published in Sag Harbor in the 1790's, reports in 1792 that "On Feb. 22, the birthday of Pres. Washington was celebrated on Shelter Island at the house of Capt. James Havens."

It is clear that Capt. James was well-liked and the family must have led a pleasant life in the old house, which he had named

"Heartsease." There is testimony from a hostile source, which carries conviction. Stephen Burroughs, a notorious impostor who briefly served as schoolmaster when James gave up his school, and who had no love for Shelter Island, kept a journal in which he describes James as a garrulous busybody, but even Burroughs has to allow him some good qualities. He writes: "Notwithstanding [Havens] was a man of unshaken integrity [and] rigidly just in all his dealings."

James Havens, patriot, sea-captain, genial host, schoolmaster, died, aged 68, on March 15, 1810. A year later his son Henry married Hannah Corlies. Henry's older brothers had married and moved away. Thus Heartsease passed in 1810 to Henry P. Havens and was destined to enjoy Havens occupancy for the next hundred years.

Henry and Asher, New York Merchants

Henry had inherited his father's gift for storekeeping. When he established himself in New York as a Commercial Merchant Heartsease became a summer residence with a tenant farmer. It is clear that Henry had become a man of substance, enjoying the respect of the New York business community, for in 1848 he was one of the group of men who founded the East River Savings Bank. He was a Charter Trustee, serving on the Board during its first two years. When Henry died, in 1856, his son Asher took over the business.

Asher, like Henry, used the house as a summer residence and perhaps it was he that added the charming staircase and the doors at either end of the hall. During the '60's he was leasing the place to George M. Treadway as a resident farmer. An inventory of 1866 lists much farm equipment, produce and livestock. This suggests many out-buildings, but the picture does record the presence of a barn.

Henry the Second

When Asher died in 1884, Heartsease went to his son Henry P. Havens the Second and his wife Marion Herrick. Mildred, the youngest of their four daughters, was the last Havens to be born in the house. Until 1911 three generations of Havens children made their summer home in Heartsease and the house must have been a merry place, well worthy of its name.

and had expanded his activities to include a small school.

Since the original house was small, some expansion was soon necessary. We know that by 1769 the house was serving James as a store, a schoolroom, and a dwelling for a growing family. William's house did not include the two extensions, one of which appears to the right of the picture. The further one had no second floor and may have been store or school.

To call the place a store is a euphemism. Store it partly was, as the ledgers attest; but a major item coming in on ships from the Caribbean was rum. James usually sold this in bulk, but there are plenty of ledger entries for liquor consumed on the premises — such purchases as "a mug of flip," "a brandy sling," "a nip of grog." The house functioned as a tavern and is so designated in records.

James, Sea-Captain, Patriot

Into this genial household burst the Revolution. James, like many Islanders, took his family for safety to Connecticut, while he himself became active in the privateer service and the political field. He was chosen one of eight men representing Suffolk County in the New York Provincial Congress of 1776.

Havens kin remaining on the Island kept the farm partly secure from enemy raiding and the store staggered on with meager supplies and greatly reduced patronage. The Island was plagued with constant raids from enemy ships in Gardiner's Bay, and in 1781 marauding crews carried off from the house valuables and probably foodstuff.

At the close of hostilities in 1783 the family had all returned, to find their Island much ravaged, but there is no record of damage to the house itself. Between 1783 and 1785 it served as the site of the annual Town Meeting and once more the store and tavern functioned. Frothingham's Long-Island Herald, published in Sag Harbor in the 1790's, reports in 1792 that "On Feb. 22, the birthday of Pres. Washington was celebrated on Shelter Island at the house of Capt. James Havens."

It is clear that Capt. James was well-liked and the family must have led a pleasant life in the old house, which he had named

"Heartsease." There is testimony from a hostile source, which carries conviction. Stephen Burroughs, a notorious impostor who briefly served as schoolmaster when James gave up his school, and who had no love for Shelter Island, kept a journal in which he describes James as a garrulous busybody, but even Burroughs has to allow him some good qualities. He writes: "Notwithstanding [Havens] was a man of unshaken integrity [and] rigidly just in all his dealings."

James Havens, patriot, sea-captain, genial host, schoolmaster, died, aged 68, on March 15, 1810. A year later his son Henry married Hannah Corlies. Henry's older brothers had married and moved away. Thus Heartsease passed in 1810 to Henry P. Havens and was destined to enjoy Havens occupancy for the next hundred years.

Henry and Asher, New York Merchants

Henry had inherited his father's gift for storekeeping. When he established himself in New York as a Commercial Merchant Heartsease became a summer residence with a tenant farmer. It is clear that Henry had become a man of substance, enjoying the respect of the New York business community, for in 1848 he was one of the group of men who founded the East River Savings Bank. He was a Charter Trustee, serving on the Board during its first two years. When Henry died, in 1856, his son Asher took over the business.

Asher, like Henry, used the house as a summer residence and perhaps it was he that added the charming staircase and the doors at either end of the hall. During the '60's he was leasing the place to George M. Treadway as a resident farmer. An inventory of 1866 lists much farm equipment, produce and livestock. This suggests many out-buildings, but the picture does record the presence of a barn.

Henry the Second

When Asher died in 1884, Heartsease went to his son Henry P. Havens the Second and his wife Marion Herrick. Mildred, the youngest of their four daughters, was the last Havens to be born in the house. Until 1911 three generations of Havens children made their summer home in Heartsease and the house must have been a merry place, well worthy of its name.

one lifetime'

I was growing up we had just a horse and buggy for going places.

"There are churches everywhere, and we used to have just one, Shiloh Methodist, which was about three or four miles from our home. It was a one-room building and we'd all pile into the buggy for Sunday meetings, and tie the horse up to an old pine tree to go to services.

"We didn't have services every month, though, wasn't enough time for that with all the farm work to be done. We had them instead every three or four months. Then a few years later they built a Baptist church at Antioch, so we went there.

"Back then, Pascagoula was called Scranton, and it was very, very small. We'd come over and back to the town on a train. No. 6 on the L&N line run in the morning and No. 5 run in the evening.

"Gautier was called West Pascagoula, and we used to catch the train from Scranton to go over there.

"I remember one man from one of the little towns in Alabama came over on the No. 5 one day and then missed the No. 6 back. He was at the depot and asked the old black who used to work there if he thought the No. 1 train which was coming soon would stop just long enough for him to get on.

"Well the No. 1 was our fast train, the through train, and it just whooshed through town. And that old black told the man 'No sir, boss, she don't even hesitate when she comes through.'

"Scranton was just too small to rate having an express train stop at her depot in those days."

He eventually did make his home near the little town of Scranton, however, settling on River Road between the towns of Moss Point and Pascagoula. The residential neighborhood that grew up on Cumberland Drive a few years back is built on land that Mr. Bill owned at one time, which he sold to a developer, along with the big white house on the hill at the corner of Cumberland and River Road.

He has been married twice, both times to women who had careers of their own to tend to, but who shared their lives with him as long as they could. His first wife, Mrs. Iola Montieth Havens, was a home demonstration agent in the county for many years. His second wife, Mrs. Dixie Mae Gibson Havens, was postmistress of

William C. "Bill" Havens

Hurley and a teacher in Wade.

Mr. Bill enjoys his memories of the county and himself growing up together, and he likes sharing those memories with his visitors at the County Home for the Aged in Hurley. He still goes to church every Sunday, he can, attending services at First Baptist in Pascagoula, where he has been on the rolls as a member since 1913.

"They even had a Mr. Bill Havens Day there a few months back," he said. "It was really nice. They all pat me on the back and talk with me whenever I make it to church, and it makes me feel like something really special, even if I am getting old.

"I have good health, though. I'm 86 years old now and if I live till the 19th of June I'll be 87. I claim to be a pretty good doctor with myself; I always have thought that you can do more for yourself than anybody else can, and I take care of myself.

"But I know I'm getting older. I went riding in a car just a few years ago by my daddy's old place. There's still no black top road through there, but we went up in there anyway. And when I passed by the old place I couldn't recognize any of it, it had all been allowed to get so grown over.

"There's a cemetery where the old Shiloh church used to be; the Antioch is still going on but the Shiloh's been done away with. And Vancleave No. 1 Cemetery is where we used to go to school; my mother donated the land that the cemetery's on, if I think right.

"Things are changing, sometimes too fast I think. I still enjoy my life, though, especially here at the home with these good people. I like all our gospel sings we have here, too. They sing old-time songs and fill our hearts with music and scriptures and it's just wonderful. It makes me feel like I've been to a revival."

For a man 86 years old, whose life has seen the tapestry of his homeland change radically and whose life has been a tapestry of change itself, Mr. Bill is the last person to need help towards getting that revival spirit.

He's still going strong under his own power, cherishing his memories and the people of Jackson County who helped him to make those memories. And looking forward to the years to come, when there will be even more memories for him to store away.

Havens: 'I've seen more changes in

By JUDY JOHNSON

"It was all piney woods land when I was growing up, and the work was heavy, hard work we had to do. But I guess it was an all right kind of childhood. I think it did all right by me, leastways."

When William Calhoun (Bill) Havens was a youngster in the piney woods land of Jackson County, days he is fond of remembering at times, the young, raw county was a good place for a little boy to grow up.

"I guess I've seen more changes in one lifetime than most any man expects to," he said. "And I'll have to admit they weren't all changes for the good. But most of them are, I reckon."

Bill Havens was born on his daddy's farm, two miles west of Vancleave, in 1887, and he has grown up with Jackson County and its people. For 36 years he served his fellow citizens as circuit court clerk, and it is a career of public service that stands unblemished by political favoritism.

It was his life on the Havens place in Vancleave which eventually led Mr. Bill to his career of public service. And the thing he remembers most about his daddy's farm was the hard work that he, his brothers and his sisters put in on the place.

"I don't really know how many forties my father owned," he said, "but he had several forties, and we worked them all. We had a dug well and horses to be used for the farming."

"All of us did some ploughing and hoeing. We always had a corn crop and a potato crop, with both kinds of potatoes, Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes."

"And then we planted various kinds of vegetables. It was a working farm, and we always had a real big crop of corn."

"It was all heavy work, hard work, that farming then. We didn't have much time for playing around. We had a big place there in Vancleave, though, and we would do some hunting; we kept hounds for that."

"There were 20 of us kids on the place; my father was married three times, with 11 children by his first wife, then the five of us by his second and four children by his last wife.

"They're all gone now, except for Sally Guillotte in Gautier and myself. We're the only two left out of the whole 20."

"We used to every once in a while go out to Black Creek for a day; took us just about all day to get there in those days, though."

"We had a mule and we'd hitch him up to an old wagon, a spring buggy it was, I think, and drive out to the creek. Vertis Ramsay's grandpa used to always go out there with us when we'd spend the day."

"He was with us one day when he went down into one of those little green ponds in the swamps around Black Creek, and there were some little turkeys there. He shot at one as it started to flap away, and then took off his clothes, to go out into the water to get it."

"Well, it was so cold he didn't get very far before he turned around and came back and put on his clothes again, then tried to swim out with all his clothes. But it was still too cold."

"So the next day, Mr. Ramsay and me and this old farm hand daddy had working on the place went back up there to get that turkey. And during the night an old log had fallen into the creek, right across and out to where that turkey was alaying."

"Mr. Ramsay took his walking stick and strolled out on that old log and picked up his turkey, and never even got his feet wet. I can remember that just as clear as day, sitting here; it's one of the things that's really stuck with me in my mind."

A lot of memories have stuck with Mr. Bill in his mind, memories of one-room schoolhouses and hitching rides home in a charcoal wagon. They are memories that reflect the times in which he grew from boyhood to young manhood; times in which the county was growing out of its raw youth, too.

"I went to school in Vancleave when I was a boy, though it wasn't really a schoolhouse," he said. "It was just an old house with one big room and all of us went to it."

"I walked two miles every day to school and two miles back home in the evenings. School didn't get started till about 9 o'clock, and we got through about 4 in the afternoons."

"Some of those evenings I'd sometimes catch myself a ride on a charcoal wagon that came right by the schoolhouse and went my way. It was an ox wagon, and I'd ride home in the evenings on it whenever I could."

"It was a nice time of the day, a quiet time, and I think I really enjoyed those rides."

Mr. Bill went to high school in the little town of Ocean Springs in 1907 to finish his education, something that was valued

"I've often wondered just how fortunate I was that I wasn't killed. If that log was to of come a little further it would've gotten both my legs and my life."

Mr. Bill underwent treatments for three years before the final decision to amputate was reached. "And that's what really set me on the road to public service as a career," he said.

That career began in January of 1912 for Mr. Bill, who defeated A. H. Sharman and W. G. Parker the year before for the position of clerk of the circuit court. He held the job for nine full terms, running five times unopposed for the position.

"In the last race I had 985 votes more than my opponent," he said, "and that was when there was only about 1,800 to 2,000 voters in the whole county. That was a pretty fair margin."

"I enjoyed that job immensely."

After serving through 1947 as circuit clerk, Mr. Bill remained on as a deputy to Vertis Ramsay in 1948, staying in that post for eight years.

"To this day, folks will come to see me and tell me that 35 years or so ago I issued them their marriage licenses," he said. "Really makes you feel nice to be remembered like that."

His 44 years in public service taught him one lesson that he feels is the most important one he has learned throughout his long life—the only way to do any job is to do it fairly and without favoritism.

"My daddy died in 1912, the year I took office for the first time as circuit clerk," Mr. Bill said. "And the one thing he said to me when I went into that office was that he wanted me to perform my duties without fear or favor—always."

"It is something that I remembered all those years, and something I remember and try to live by even to this day."

"I remember one of the election commissioners coming to me when I had been in office only a little while, and asking me to do something for him that wasn't strictly by the record."

"In those days, you had to have all your taxes paid up, including your poll taxes, before you could be a qualified voter. Well, this commissioner, he'd come to me and told me that he wanted me to mark so-and-so delinquent in his taxes, because the man wouldn't vote this particular commissioner's school of thought."

"And I just told him I was gonna go with the record. I told him if it was my own brother who was delinquent, I would mark him delinquent; and if he was qualified, that's the way I'd mark him."

"The election commissioner didn't like that too much, but there wasn't anything he could do about it. You can't show favors and do things like that when you hold a public office. It isn't right."

"Now I know today there's a lot of cor

Catherine and John Doody

Catherine (Kitty) and John Doody had the privilege of representing Little Flower Parish in the Valentine Awards sponsored by the Friends of Catholic Social Services. This is a ceremony that honors persons whose contribution of time and talent has made a significant difference in the lives of Mobile area residents.

Mobile's largest private multi-service outstanding in the volunteers agency honors social ministry. Since their return from living in Baton Rouge, they have been active in almost every phase of parish life at Little Flower.

John has been a lifelong member of the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society and they both have done tremendous work over the years with the Golden Age Club. John has been known as "Mr. Fix It" around the Golden Age Club and Little Flower Church. Kitty has been active in the Altar Society, the Burse Club, ladies of Charity and they both have worked with Pro-Life.

John and Kitty are extremely generous to the Church and to all generous charitable causes. Kitty is an Eucharistic Minister and brings Communion to the sick and visits the shut-ins. John often acts as an Altar Server at daily Mass. John and Kitty are two of the most wonderful supportive of the people I know and always are most Priests, the staff and any project of Little Flower. To know them is to love them.

Susan Martha Dorlon-Reed, Realmama

Halito moma.¹

Susan Martha Reed, 6 Jan 1887-29 Jun. 1971, ever known as Realmama, a true matriarch of her family. Born at home on Cedar Point, she married at 17. Her husband William Joseph Reed 3 Dec. 1875-8 Sep. 1929 died just before their 25th anniversary leaving Realmama with ten children, including a nine-month-old infant. William caught TB while nursing Realmama's sister Ruby and brother Mulford so that Realmama, who was pregnant, would not be exposed. Realmama's love for her Bill and her faith is reflected in this poem she wrote.

Bill

I am sitting by the old fireplace alone. It seems so strong that Bills gone.

Old house 'pears deserted now-kinder lonely; and somehow; all the birds, that sang so glad once, now sings sorta sad that used to wake the old man up at dawn, seems to say that my Bills gone.

No one in the house but me.

That old coat there on the wall, he wore when we moved up here last fall long ago.

Its patched so now that you'd hardly know what its made of. The old hat he wore

I keep it hung there by the door, and the old pipe I gave him just before he died, and the old mittens too with the holes showing through where his old hands did press, reaching out for heaven I guess;

Thats his picture on the wall taken the day we all went to town to see the show 50 years ago. Don't seem more'n a year to me, reckon just because, that we were so happy; but a day, seems like a year since he's away.

So I try to be content, knowing God has never sent, burdens more that we can bear and I, lift my heart in prayer knowing Bills with the blest, and what I don't understand, I just leave it in his hands when my feet go straying in the forbidden paths of sin

I can only kneel and pray. I am blind

Dear Lord lead the way.

Halito moma is Choctaw for hello ya'll

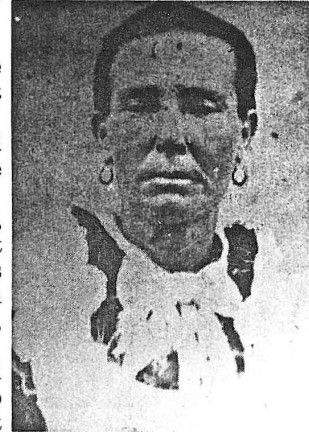

Realmama's daughter Betty wrote, the years of the depression were a bitter struggle, but hard work, love and the joy of being together brought us thru. As hard as times were, Realmama always had something to share with others in need, from the boy who slept on a cot, (Hyman Dumas), so he could go to school and work, to the boy whose step father had no time for him, to the Scottish Sailor, Uncle Harry Albert "Scotty" Skinner 6 Jan. 1902-18 Nov. 1980, wanting to make a life in America and many more.

During WWII, while her own sons were overseas, Realmama opened her arms, heart and home to many lonely boys from the nearby base, be it Sunday dinner, an afternoon of records, browsing books or just lying in the hammock reflecting.

In 1906 Realmama's husband, William Reed, a salesman traveled to Heron Bay with his sample case of shoes. The 1906 storm struck. Afterwards people were scouring the country side looking for the mates to the shoes they found not realizing that Reed's case only had one of each shoe.

Realmama's father, Reuben Louis Dorlon "Pretty Papa" 7 Jun. 1860-28 Sep. 1944 was with the Mobile Police Department for 45 years, retiring as Lieutenant in charge of the Detective Division in 1940. Reuben's wife was Mary Elizabeth Campbell daughter of John Archibald Campbell 24 Jun. 1811-12 Mar 1889, US Supreme Court Justice who resigned to become Assistant Secretary of War for the Confederacy.

Reuben's father was Nathan Mulford Dorlon 4 Jul. 1815-1 Dec.

1895 known as Mulford or Mul. The Dorlons trace back to Jan Dorlandt born in 1520 in Kortenhoef, Vreeland, Holland. Mulford came to Alabama from Hempstead NY around 1846. He married Martha Patsy Lyons 4 May 1824/31-1917. She was 13 years old, so after the marriage Mulford went back to New York for three years returning when she was sixteen. Mulford's family was wealthy and had planned on him marrying a debutante in New York. Mulford took his inheritance ($250,000.00) and came to Mobile County. He started a successful and the very first terrapin farm. He shipped terrapins back to restaurants in New York.

Mulford bought the Governor Stone, a two masted schooner bay boat built in 1877.

Mulford sailed the coast picking up oysters from the oystermen at their boats and carrying cargo. Mulford was a large strong man about 225 pounds. History records that Mulford killed the last Gulf Coast pirate, Spud Thompson, in a fight defending Mulford's father-in-law, Paul Lyons. One blow put Spud down. Mulford's wife

Martha Patricia "Patsy" Lyons (age 97)

Martha Patricia "Patsy" Lyons 4 May 1824/34-1917 was the daughter of Amos Paul Lyons, Indian Scout. Martha's mother was Rosalie Ballard, Choctaw Indian, 7 Mar 1795-1830. Rosalie was born in Tombigbee country to Phelan Ballard and Misrecordia "Massie" Haven, daughter of John Haven II of Virginia.

Realmama grew up a part of upper society in Mobile. When Mulford Dorlon died all of his cash and gold disappeared, stolen during the night.

Realmama's in-laws were Alexandre Reed 1851-16 May 1905 and Mary A. Chamberlain 17 Apr. 1855-15 Apr. 1932. Alexander was an oysterman in the 1880s. He became a Mobile Police Officer on the 1890s. He is listed on 1894 rosters as employee one with badge 10. Alexander died in 1905 from paralysis after a nine-day illness. Family history states that he died in the line of duty responding to a fire. Caps in city records for this era have made it impossible to learn further details, Alexander's obituary listed him as one of the best-known men on the Mobile Police Department regarded by his superiors as ever prompt, efficient and fearless.

Details of the Reed family are sketchy. William was an only child. Alexander's Grandfather was lighthouse keeper at Ship Island where he died in the winter of 1859.

Alexander's other grandparents were also Ship Island Lighthouse keepers. Edward Havens died there in 1855 replaced by his wife Maria "Mary" Rose Ladner 30 Dec. 1815-1856/57. Mary died at the lighthouse. John Reed replaced her. No explanation is recorded for the number or causes of the deaths at Ship Island Lighthouse.

Alexander's mother was Adeline Havens from VanCleve, Mississippi. Her father Edward Havens was the son of John Havens and Sale Cove. Adeline's mother was Maria Rose Ladner 30 Dec. 1815-1856/57. Maria's parents are believed to be Nicolas Ladner and Maria Angelique Baudrau.

Realmama's ten children and one step son are:

Vivian Clarence "Jack"; 1 Aug. 1905- 5 Nov. 1980; Mary Elizabeth "Bootsie"; 16 Dec. 1907-16 Sep. 1975; Sarah Frances "Frankie"; 27 Feb. 1909; James Reuben "Jim"; 14 Jul. 1912; Dolores Adele "Lolly"; 27 Jul. 1915; Isabel Jane Rose Myrtle "Betty"; 17 Jun. 1918-25 Apr. 1998; John Mims "Jack or Mims"; 28 Jul. 1921-1 Sep. 1996; Florence Grace "Mary"; 10 May 1924; Rose Marie "Marie" 4 Jun. 1926; Joseph Wesley "Sonny" 23 Jan 1929-2 Jan 1986

Dorlon- Schambeau Family

Oliver Dorlon was born around 1786 in South Hempstead, New York where he worked as an oyster dealer in the Fulton Fish Market. In 1814, Oliver married Nancy Thurston and together they had 5 children. Among the five children was a son named Nathan Mulford Dorlon born July 4, 1815 in South Hempstead.

It is believed that Nathan Dorlon moved to Cedar Point, Alabama in order to establish the area's first terrapin farm. He also ran a grocery store and shipped products to New York, Philadelphia, and Washington. He married Martha Patsy Lyons of Mobile County on July 4, 1845 and the couple settled in Cedar Point.

Martha and Nathan Dorlon had eleven children. Their eldest son, Philon, was sheriff of Mobile in 1892 and second son George, was the first oyster inspector of Alabama. In 1891, the sixth Dorlon daughter, Gertrude Arabelle "Belle" married Joseph Francis Schambeau of Pollard, Alabama. The original home of Joseph's father, Joseph Peter Schambeau and mother Georgiana Chamberlain Schambeau is unknown. It is believed, but not documented, that the Schambeau family was descendants of the French General Jean Baptiste Rochambeau, commander of the expeditionary forces in the American Revolution, that had migrated to Canada from France. Joseph Schambeau and brother Peter and sister Zoe (m. Manuel Canizas) eventually moved further south. Peter settled in Pensacola, Florida; Zoe in Mobile; and Joseph in Heron Bay, Alabama.

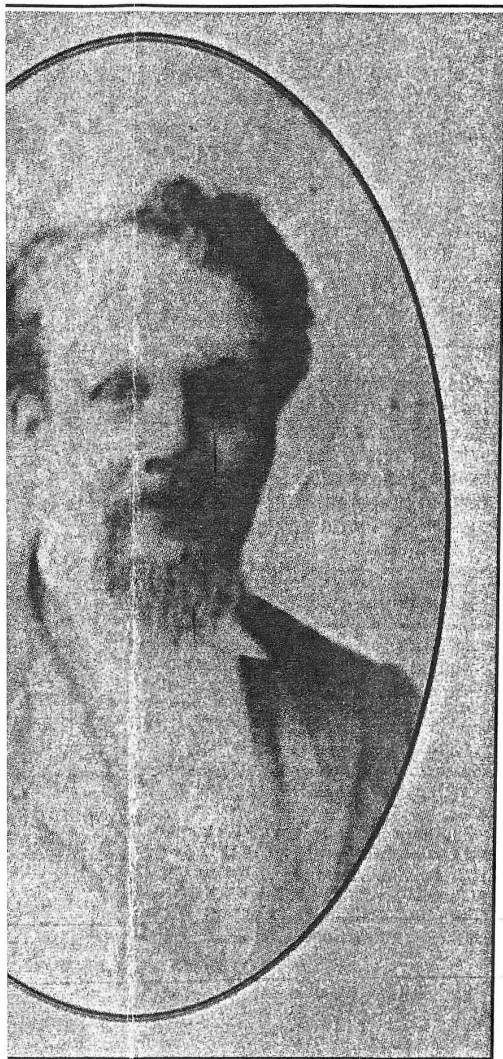

"Belle" Dorlon Schambeau (1875-1951) and Joseph Schambeau (1869-1957) lived in Heron Bay and eventually moved to Coden, Alabama, which in the early 1900's was a popular summer and winter resort. The Portersville, Mobile and Montgomery stage line connected with a line of steamboats from New Orleans and Mobile. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad was a popular means of transportation to the village of Coden. The Rolston Hotel and The Villa Alba Auditorium and Park were some of the many attractions in the resort town of Coden. Joseph Schambeau known as "Mr. Choper," owned a grocery store in Coden and was known to be the best shrimp net maker in the area. It was said that "Mr. Choper" could start knitting a shrimp net in the morning and be casting the new net by afternoon.

Belle and Joseph Schambeau had five sons: George (m Merttie Julia Arnett) 1893-1978, founded Schambeau's Foodland in Bayou La Batre, Tarleton (m. Mary Ardell Clarke) 1894-1983, was a groceryman in Mobile and founded Virginia Street Wrecking Co., Augustus "Gussie" (m. Emma Arnett) 1896-1976, was a groceryman in Daytona Beach, FL and a man of many trades including boxing; and Emanuel "Manny" (m. Mary Margaret Noel) 1901-1968 had a grocery store in Coden; and Joseph "Joe" 1913-1981 for many years was the proprietor of the Yellow Hammer Restaurant in Coden and Coden Antiques.

Havens, born in 1831, was a descendant of John Havens III,
who settled at Potacaw Landing in 1802. A farmer and justice of the peace, Havens married three times and fathered 20 children.

He had been one of the charter

members of McLeod Lodge No.
424, which had been organized in Ocean Springs a year before, along with Martin, Westfall and Ruble and W.P. Ramsay had also been charter members of the Ocean Springs lodge, while John M. Graham had been a charter member of Daisy Lodge No. 421.

Serving with Havens as the first officers of the lodge were W.P.
Ramsay, senior warden; Westfall,
junior warden; Ruble, secretary;
W.R. Havens, senior deacon; T.Q.
Roberts, junior deacon; Robert Cooper, tyler.

Guests who came to that first meeting included Abner Walker,
John Fletcher, Thomas Jefferson
White and Abiser Havens of the Daisy Lodge.

The dues were set by the 15
charter members at $2 a year.
This amount was increased to $2.50 in 1909. 1921 saw a hike to $5, but this was reduced during the Great Depression to $4.

The group's first building was erected during 1895, oldtimers say, on a site just to the south of the present building. Work continued to improve and equip the structure for the next several years. The formal dedication was held in June, 1903. Another milestone for the building came in 1940 when electric lights were installed.

By 1960, the need for a new
meeting site was evident.

"The old building was getting a bit ramshackled and wasps and honey bees were trying to take over," Collom said. "During degree work, signs that were not Masonic were sometimes given as one tried to slap a wasp off his head, or quickly remove it from the inside of his shirt before the insect could sting. They were not always successful and then un-Masonic words might be heard."

"Honey from the bee combs ran down the walls and onto the floor

downstairs. A bee man was given the honey to remove the bees, but they returned. On an earlier occasion, during the time Brother Lauren Ware was worshipful master, bees got up the pants leg of the master and some of the members and forced the lodge to adjourn to Brother Leo Byrd's store."

Therefore, the members launched fund raising to start a new building. With many donations from members, friends and other lodges, work was started on a building in 1963. Murray Holden conducted the first meeting in the new building in 1964 and John Fletcher conferred the first degree.

After the building's two large
air conditioning units were stolen that first year, a bank loan was sought to install central air conditioning.

"During the period from 1965 to 1970, we were fortunate to have two of the youngest and most active worshipful masters in the state, John A. Fletcher and George Robert Taylor," Jones said.

The lodge also was able to retire
its debt two years early and have the new building dedicated by its 75th anniversary on Oct. 31, 1970.

The meeting place was also used in the early 1970s by a new lodge being organized in East Central until the members could have their own building.

Current officers of Ezel Lodge
are Roy Davis, Ed Reiter, Billy Griffin, Bill Collom, David Lee
Mohr, Sam Massengill, Robert Collom and Talmage Byrd.

REE MILLIONS IN GENERAL FUND

Begins New Year With $3,020,426 in Treasury, and Bright Future Ahead.

SON, Miss., Jan. 1.—State Treasurer Lewis R. May greeted the New Year today with a set of figures showing Mississippi is on a cash and pay-go basis, with bills to pay, and to pay them with the general fund cash balance of $3,020,426 was on the books with the $1,265,000 earmarked for early disbursement in school funds and interest payments. Anticipated revenues will keep prospects bright, the treasurer said. Comparative statement of general receipts for 1933-1934 showed receipts for 1933 totaled $15,541,078 as compared with 1934 receipts of $14,330,000. From the 1933 receipts, however, must be deducted $4,789,918.90 proceeds from bond sales to show comparison of receipts for the two years from ordinary sources, the treasurer explained. Discounting bond sales for 1933, the 1934 general receipts total about $3,000,000, more than those of 1933. Collections by the state tax commission from about 10 sources, including sales tax, totaled $6,376,167 in 1934 as compared to $4,450,294 in 1933, the treasurer's statement of moneys paid to the treasury showed. The largest contributor to the 1934 total was the tax, which produced $3,628,974 as compared to $2,485,000 of the same date a year ago.

As men grow under responsibility, only swell.

Mr. Thompson is regarded as an efficient and capable man in the work which is assigned to him. He was here in the same capacity several months ago, so is not a stranger to the work in Jackson county.

SIXTY-SIX YEARS OF MARRIED LIFE

Prominent Couple of Vancleave Celebrate Sixty-Sixth Anniversary Last Sunday.

On last Sunday afternoon, December 30, 1934, at their home near Vancleave, Rev. and Mrs. Jeff H. Havens (Uncle Jeff and Aunt Mary Jane as their relatives and friends affectionately call them) celebrated the sixty-sixth anniversary of their marriage, in the presence of about one hundred relatives and friends from all sections of the county who called to pay their respects to this worthy and much beloved couple.

Rev. H. W. VanHook of the Vancleave Methodist church, spoke again the marriage vows that were a continuation of those spoken by the couple when they were young and fair, with almost all of a happy life before them. There were present children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to hear these solemn vows re-enacted, and to wish these splendid old folks many more happy wedding anniversaries.

Jeff H. Havens and Mary Jane Roberts were married on the 31st day of December, 1868, in the Tom G. Roberts home near Mt. Pleasant church. The name of the minister who performed the ceremony has been forgotten. The couple resided for a few years on the Marvin Roberts place; after moving to their present place on the west side of Moulter's creek, where they have lived for sixty years. Uncle Jeff was 88 years of age in July, 1934; and Aunt Mary Jane was 81 years old in September, 1934.

Eight children have been born to this couple, four of whom are still living, namely: W. R. Havens and Lillie Havens of Vancleave, Mrs. Eunice Green of Benndale, and Mrs. Ruth Kinch of Lucedale. There are 18 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren, nearly all of whom are living, and all worthy citizens who have the love and respect of all who know them.

Uncle Jeff, being a retired Methodist minister, followed that vocation for a number of years, being away from home a good part of the time. But since his retirement he has been actively engaged in farming, to make a living. He and his good wife are in a remarkable state of health and preservation and bid fair to live many years.

Sixty-six years of married life is a remarkable record, in this restless age when marriage is taken all too lightly and the vows are cast aside as a worn garment, and this paper takes pleasure in congratulating this fine old couple and to wish them many joys and much happiness in these sunset

ing 1934 as compared with the previous year. For instance, the deposits of this bank as shown by the statement made on December 31, 1934, show a total of nearly one million dollars, or to be exact, $959,632.62, as compared with total deposits at the end of 1933 of $624,435.20, an increase of $335,197.20—a remarkable increase, all conditions considered.

One does not have to seek very far to find a reason for this splendid showing of the Pascagoula National Bank, aside from the general upturn of business. The Pascagoula National Bank, in keeping with its policy of service for twenty-seven years, has continued to support business enterprises, lending worthy merchants, manufacturers, farmers and others in business, sufficient cash to carry on their normal businesses, and thus relieve, to a large extent, prevailing conditions and enable the commercial interests of the county to continue many people in employment, even in the most depressed times of the past year or so.

We congratulate the Pascagoula National Bank on its splendid showing, and venture the prediction, that following its past policy in the future, it will continue to grow and continue to serve the people of Jackson county in their needs for capital to carry on their legitimate business enterprises.

$291,000,000 WORK DONE IN FORESTS ASSERTS FECHNER

CCC Work is 'Outstanding Economic Success,' Says Director's Report.

Washington, Dec. 26.—An estimate that the value of conservation work done by the Civilian Conservation Corps up to September 30 totalled over $291,000,000 was made today by Robert Fechner, director of the corps.

Fechner said that "work records for the first year and a half operation of the Civilian Conservation Corps make it clear that the CCC has been an outstanding economic success."

Fechner has recommended continuance of the corps to the president, who also favors keeping the camps.

"The figures, as compiled by the bureau of the census from reports sent to Washington by camp superintendents," Fechner said, "disclose that CCC men completed more than 40,000 miles of truck trails through forest areas as a fire prevention move, completed more than 25,000 miles of telephone lines, improved more than 1,000,000 acres of forest lands, protected millions of acres from fires, insects, tree diseases and other forest pests, and developed recreational projects valued at millions of dollars. More than 700,000 small dams have been constructed. More than 200,000,000 trees were planted and thousands of man days spent in nursery work growing seedlings for future plantings."

JACKSON COUNTY...

Two elderly ladies sit on the porch of an old rambling house by the side of the Vancleave road, rock gently and watch the cars go by. They can remember when traffic was only horses and wagons and ox teams. They can remember a great deal about Jackson county, for they've been here a long time.

Mrs. A. L. Havens will be 91 years old in a few weeks. Miss Lizzie Ware is younger, but a person can be a great deal younger than 91 and still have had a lot of time to store up remembrances.

Mrs. Havens was born near Salem camp ground but she has lived in Vancleave off and on a long time and now she and a daughter live in a small apartment in the home of Miss Ware, who has lived her whole life in Vancleave.

Mrs. Havens and Miss Ware don't rock all the time. Mornings find them busy about their duties. Both rise with the sun and Mrs. Havens does household chores in her small apartment but Miss Lizzie takes a hoe and goes into her garden.

Gardening is a hobby with Miss Ware and now it has taken on even greater significance for the vegetables she cans from her produce go a long way toward feeding her seven great nieces and nephews whose mother works hard to support them.

Four of the children are in school and the grandparents care for the smallest three in the absence of their mother each day and it is to that brood that the beans, tomatoes, okra, beets, peas and Irish potatoes and black and huckle berries go after she has kept a few jars to satisfy her own meager appetite.

From the fig trees, which she planted herself, she got the figs for preserves and jelly and in addition sold enough to pay for the sugar and other materials needed.

She brags, too, that she has never lost a jar of anything and she sticks to the old fashioned hot water way of canning. Miss Lizzie leaves that pressure canning to the younger folks that don't mind "experimenting."

Miss Ware says she isn't able to do a whole lot since her health is not so good as it once was but anyone who has hoed for several hours in the hot morning sun might take exception to that statement.

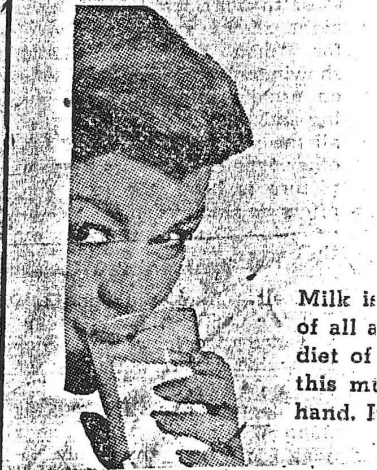

She is active in home demonstration club work and two years ago was presented her 25-year perfect attendance pin.

The old family home houses several families now, since it has been separated into apartments. As Miss Lizzie phrases it, the house is full of "good home grown people."

Miss Ware is a little hard of hearing and Mrs. Havens' eyesight is not what it once was so they are a lot of company for each other. They chat of the old days when their work is done and Miss Lizzie reads aloud to Mrs. Havens.

Miss Lizzie excused herself to meet the mailman. As we left the two of them to resume their rocking, her voice floated down the uneven brick walk after us—reading aloud the Chronicle-Star and Advertiser to Mrs. Havens, bent forward with her hand behind her ear.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER.

Writing editorially a Nebraska publication recently gave a description of the home without a newspaper, presenting a woeful picture of depravity, ignorance, and desolation. There is a brighter side, however, to the story in the substantial fact that few homes can be found where the newspaper is not in evidence. In nearly every hamlet there is somebody who can read and that somebody first of all, wants the newspaper, even though all else of literary character excluded.

Old and young alike give first attention to the local publication, and reread passing from hand to hand the enjoyment and satisfaction derived is heightened by the pleasurable anticipation of looking forward to the coming of the next issue. Books are good, magazines have much to commend them, but the local newspaper, with its multifarious record of facts and fancy is the plus ultra of attraction to the whole household. Heads of the family want it; recognition is given to the fact that the children must have it and mutually they enjoy and are made wiser and happier and more up-to-date by the news it contains. Strengthened mentally, socially, morally, they come to know and believe that the home without the newspaper—if such a home can be found—does not deserve the name, because the great contributing to happiness, to sound thinking, to right living, to moral and social upbuilding, is, wanting to complete the picture. The local paper is ever mindful of the welfare of the community and in season and out of season is exerting its influence to this end, regardless of the fact that perhaps sometimes its pecuniary interests would point in an opposite

GREEN-HAVENS.

Vancleave, Miss., April 24.—On last Wednesday evening the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jeff Havens was the scene of a pretty home wedding when their daughter, Miss Jennie Havens, became the wife of Mr. Ernest Green, of Leaf, Miss. The parlor and dining room were tastefully and beautifully decorated with roses, Easter lilies and pot plants. The bride, one of the most popular young women of the community, was charming in a gray silk poplin gown with hat and crushed roses to match. Rev. Ervin Roberts performed the solemn ceremony. A dainty luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Green left on a brief honeymoon trip to Mobile, from which city they go to Leaf, Miss., where they will make their future home.

A STRANGE ACCIDENT.

Jackson, Miss., April 26.—Locomotive Engineer Walter Armstrong of the Illinois Central Railroad was seriously injured this afternoon by the explosion of a cannon ball or bomb. His engine and crew were idle on a siding and found the bomb, one thrown into Jackson by the Federal army during the war of fifty years ago, in an embankment. Building a fire about it they awaited results, but Armstrong failed to get far enough away, and was very badly hurt when the old war relic exploded. Both arms and one leg were shattered, and fragments struck him all over. He was rushed to the hospital where he hovers between life and death. Happening on Confederate Memorial Day makes the explosion of the old shell all the more interesting.

Miss Irene Binford, who has been the guest of Miss Neta Dick for several weeks, will leave Monday noon for her home in Louisville, Ky.

F. W. Norwood arrived in Ocean Springs this week from Chicago to spend a while here with Mrs. Norwood and their daughter, Mrs. Shapker.

E. S. Davis & Sons call your attention to a fine line of felt and straw hats. All styles and shades and prices to suit your pocket book. Look them over.

Dan Toler left this week for Range, Alabama, where he will engage in the turpentine business. His family will follow him in about two or three weeks. Dan's many friends in this vicinity will wish him much success in his new field of labor.

The population of Jackson county, according to the late census report, is 15,451. Considering the fact that the county lost a goodly slice of territory through the forming of George county, the showing is an excellent one. There has been a steady growth in population in all parts of the county.

The News would like to see a good base ball team organized in Ocean Springs this summer. A cheap excursion to Mobile and Pensacola will be run over the L. & N. next Thursday, April 27th. The train is scheduled to leave Ocean Springs at 11:17 a. m. Returning leaves Pensacola at 8:00 a. m. on Saturday the 29th and reaches Mobile at noon the same day. The fare for the round trip from Ocean Springs to Mobile $1.50; to Pensacola is $2.50.

A Buffalo man was seconding the pastor's suggestion that everybody turn out and try to make the midweek service successful. "I think everybody should come prepared to say something," he said, with fervor, "so that no time may be lost except that which is taken up by the pastor."

The funeral of Walter Havens, whose unfortunate suicide was chronicled in The News last week, was held Saturday at West Pascagoula, and was one of the largest ever held in that vicinity. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge and brother Masons were in attendance from Ocean Springs, Vancleave and all the neighboring towns. The interment was in the Gaudier cemetery.

The editor of the Fayette Chronicle has such a fondness for the luscious watermelon that he has offered special prizes for the three largest sent to his office this summer. Melons weighing under forty pounds will not be considered, but there is no maximum figure named.

Family Of Seven Loses Its Home

OCEAN SPRINGS — A family of seven returned home Thursday night to find their small house and possessions totally destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith
and their five children of Ward Avenue were visiting a neighbor when their house caught fire.

Fire Chief Bernard Beaugez
said cause of fire was undetermined. He estimated damages at $1,500.

Two city units and a Volunteer Fire Department unit prevented the fire from spreading.
The eaves of a closely-adjoining house caught fire and was also controlled by the three units.

A drive has been started by the city and volunteer fire departments to help the Smiths
and also the James Hollands,
who lost their home and possessions in a D'Iberville fire
early today.

Both departments will collect items from persons wishing to donate. Pickup may be arranged by calling George (Bunk) Terry, president-elect of the volunteer department, 875-5120,
or Chief Beaugez.

Sizes for the two family's clothing may be obtained from them. Chief Beaugez said he had space to stote donated goods.

Society Accepts Changes Today, Bailey States

William B. Bailey, executive vice president of the Pascagoula Chamber of Commerce, Thursday outlined society's responses to community changes
from medieyal times to the 20th century for Moss Point Rotarians.

He said most of today's social order accepts changes with an optimistic spirit, but history
shows this hasn't always been the case. In some eras, Bailey said, open hostility prevailed against changes, and in some extreme cases, changes were outlawed.

Bailey said today's fluid society brings about rapid changes and all changes aren't necessarily good. Some, he said, would usurp the individuals basic rights and limit his freedom
of choice and personal initative.

Here, he said, the local community organization can play a major role in assisting things
to happen in the right direction.

In so doing, the chamber executive said, a political and social order that highlights the individual is preserved.

He admonished the Rotarians
to take an inventory of their goals and strive to meet the challenge that today's chanigng
times present to them and all

LIVES LOST IN FLOOD IN SPAIN

Meeting. King Alphonso Leaves For Valley of Andalusia to Take Charge of Rescue Work

(United Press Dispatch)

Madrid, Feb. 9.

Alarmed by the conditions in southwestern Spain where thousands of acres have been inundated by floods
and scores of lives lost, King Alphonso and Queen Victoria left today for the scene. The King will take charge of the rescue work. The valley of Andalusia is inundated. There has been a heavy loss of life and of live stock. The loss of human life cannot be estimated but it is believed to have been large. The Andalusian valley is one of the famed regions of the earth,
noted for its olives, fruits and wines.

ney Hanun Gardner left this morning
to locate a point for a bridge over Biloxi River, which has been ordered built by the Board of Supervisors. An effort will be made to have the bridge
span the river at the Lorraine ferry,
which has been operated for the last sixty years. The party included W.
F. Hardtner, who took them in his car to Biloxi River.

The decision to build a bridge over the Biloxi river was determined upon by the board some months ago. It is considered one of the most important projects in the county in that it will make possible the completion of the system of roads under way leading into Gulfport. At this time persons living east of the Biloxi river are handicapped in getting into Gulfport because of having to cross this river by ferry. It is said that much trade that rightfully belongs to Gulfport has been going elsewhere because of the inconvenience experienced in crossing the river.

Did You see the mystery of the Maine at the Warfield the past week?
No? You lost an opportunity to witness the moving pictures of an episode that is now consigned, with its legends and facts, to the broad, comforting and all-consuming bottom of the Atlantic ocean. The Maine rests with the mysteries of all the ages at the bottom of the seas.

The British schooner Georgiana
Roup, Pickles master, bound for Pascagoula, from the West Indies, ran ground on Dauphin Island, near Mobile, at 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon. The tug Gulfport from Gulfport went to her assistance but she had floated clear in the meantime.
The schooner entered the port of Mobile, from whence she will come to this city.

Announcement comes from Mobile
that the Louisville and Nashville road will change the schedule of two of its trains next Sunday morning.
Train No. 6 will arrive at 8:47 o'clock,
a. m., forty-five minutes earlier than
at present, and train No. 5, from Mobile at 2:45 o'clock, p. m., will arrive about 3:02 o'clock, p. m. No official notification of the proposed changes
had been received in this city up to Wednesday night.

The Fact That Good Talent Exists Among The School Boys.

The Sunflower Buds' Famous Minstrels, an aggregation of Pascagoula boys, gave two performances during the past week, the first on Friday night and the second on Tuesday night, both at the Warfield theatre.
Friday night the amateurs were handicapped by some of the worst weather
that has visited this city, and the Tuesday performance was given because of numerous requests that had been made for them to repeat. The proceeds are for the benefit of the public school library, the fund being materially increased as a result of the enthusiastic efforts of the players.

From the opening chorus of "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl That Married Dear Old Dad," until the curtain dropped on the laughable skit,
"The Magic Hat," there was not a dull moment. Byron Clark, as interlocutor, had himself well in hand all the time, and his singing of "I'll Be
With You When the Southern Roses
Are in Bloom," and that ever pleasing and always popular "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," was high class, clear and effective. Mr. Clark possesses a clear, flexible voice that has shown splendid improvement. It has shown months, an improvement
that is indicated as well fitting him
for stage work of the character he has essayed.

Walter Pelham and Fred Ferris
were thoroughly at home on the ends,
both being clever in different ways,
and each being thoroughly at home in their difficult roles. Mr. Pelham's
"In the Land of Harmony" and "Alexander's Rag Time Band" were given in the most approved style, and his tramp monologue in the olio was one continuous roar. Mr. Ferris made distinct hits in his "Oceana Roll,"
and the most difficult of all presentations, his talking song "Chicken Song."

The ballad singing in the first part was the means of giving those in attendance a feast of clever vocal interpretation of late popular songs in which each young man was accorded generous and well deserved applause.
P. Nohring sang "Oh, You Beautiful
Doll" and "You'll Do The Same Thing Over Again." "It's Got To Be
Some One That I Love" and "Tell
The Old, Old Story," were the vehicles used by Joe Zink with success, while A. Graydon sweetly sang "I'd Love To Live In Loveland With A Girl Like You." Frank Canty made a hit with his "Turn Off The Light,
Mr. Moon Man," and the chorus work by the entire membership was all that could have been expected from any minstrel company.

The olio was a mass of clever jumbles, with Gatti and Clark in a winning singlet act, and the High School
Glee Club, composed of the balladists,
was kept busy in satisfying the audience, which always called for more.
Walter Pelham's tramp monologue was a "convulsion," and "The Magic Hat" proved a clever laugh producer continually filled with surprises.

The entire performance went smoothly and bespoke the thoroughness of the direction and management of Pelham and Clark, managers of the organization, that it is hoped, will find it convenient to not only give other minstrel shows but invade other lines of similar work for the genuine pleasure given the people of the city.
The music in connection was an important feature of the success of the show, the accompaniments being played by Prof. H. G. Hassard and Miss Edith Morris. The DEMOCRAT-STAR congratulates Pascagoula on having among her own boys those with such talent and ability as displayed, and congratulates the young men and Sunday with his dignity at Escatawpa, returning to the state capital Sunday evening. Mr. Johnson was on the coast because of a visit of his committee to make personal inspection of matters in which they are interested.

Mr. Johnson talked interestingly on doings at Jackson. Many things he tells in his own inimitable manner
have never found their way into the public prints, but they are important just the same. The present legislature is not different from the hundreds of others that have met as far as freak bills are concerned, but it is different from hundreds of others in
so much as it is doing some real meritorious work. Future generations may recall this legislature as one of the most important and business like that has ever assembled at Jackson,
and Mr. Johnson's part in the constructive legislation will prove to not have been an insignificant one.

Shocking Sounds

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache
in the back warns you the kidneys
need attention if you would escape
those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see back ache
fly and all your best feelings return.
"My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder troubles," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockford, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50

Card of Appreciation.

Mr. W. S. Dodson died at his late residence on the beach on February 13, after a protracted illness. During that illness the good, kind people of the neighborhood vied with each other in rendering needed assistance,
and Dr. W. A. Cox gave the most faithful of professional and personal attention. The family and other relatives of the late Mr. Dodson are deeply sensible of the many kindnesses thus showered upon him and
them, and take this means of giving expression to their deep appreciation.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications; as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed
you have a rumbling sound or imperfect
hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition,
hearing will be destroyed forever; nine
cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh,
which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED

Suspicious Circumstance Tends To Belief Of Incendiarism.

Latimer, Miss., Feb. 10.—The Latimer
school house was burned about 9:30 o'clock last Tuesday evening, February 13, the loss being estimated at $250, with about $30 worth of books destroyed. Some of the citizens report having seen a light in the building early in the evening, but thought it was some one camping there out of the unfavorable weather, and no special attention was paid to it. Last year the school had been supplied with new desks, blackboards, etc.
The patrons have decided to discontinue the school for this term. Miss Inez Parker of Big Creek, Miss., is the teacher, and she left today for her home. She has made an excellent record while here, being looked upon as one of the best teachers that has ever been located here.

Whereas, The Most Worshipful

wisdom, to call from the activities of this life, our esteemed and worthy brother, H. C. Havens, to stand before the bar of judgment and answer for
the deeds done while here in the body;
and,

Whereas, Gulf Lodge No. 419, F. and A. M., has lost a valued and worthy member, one whose wise dicretion and words of wisdom and advice had always been received with great favor, exemplifying in his daily
walk in life the great principles of masonry; the county and state an-honest and upright citizen, one possessed of those sterling qualities of integrity, and his family a loving husband and kind father; therefore,
be it

Resolved, by Gulf Lodge No. 419,
F. and A. M., That though we deplore
the passing of our worthy brother,
bowing in most humble submission
to the will of Him Who doeth all things for the best, we rest content in the belief that we will be reunited in that Grand Lodge above; the abode of those who have had said unto them,
"Well done good and faithful servant."

Resolved further, That the tenderest sympathy and condolence of the members of this Lodge be expressed to the family of our deceased brother
in this, their darkest hour.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the local papers; that they be made a part of the permanent records of this Lodge; and that a copy be sent to the family.

and died June 1, 1930. They made their home at Vancleave, Ms.

I understand after Jeremiah Ladner (Nathaniel brother) was killed by Jay Halkers
Nathaniel went in pursuit of them. It was very bad weather and while crossing Wolf River, in the sleet and rain he froze in the saddle. When he reached home they had to cut him from the saddle. The exposure was too much for him, he developed pneumonia and died.

HAVENS

The Havens clan of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by all records and traditions came to this area from Virginia. The names Haven, Havens, De Haven, and Van der Hoeven are variants of the same family name as they occur on the continent of Europe. The name Havens early appears in Belgium and a persistent tradition among present day Havens families is that the origin of their ancestral line was in the Low Countries of Europe. A will by one Stephen Haven in Westmoreland County, Va., in 1816, indicates that they came to America by way of England, since he willed property in that country.

In 1773, one John Havens and his sons, John, Jr., and Joel, received a lease for one hundred ~~xxxx~~ acres of land located in Frederick Co., Va., from Thomas Lord Fairfax. This lease stipulated that one hundred apple trees should be planted, properly fenced and pruned. The location of this lease was in Virginia's great apple orchard country of today. This lease, according to British law, was for the life time of the recipients. However, the American Revolution brought Virginia under American law and threw all these leases into litigation.

The 1782 census of Frederick County, Va., listed John Havens, Sr., in a family of eight and John Havens, Jr., in a family of three with no other Havens families in this Virginia census. Then the official records skip some twenty years and from Virginia to the Mississippi Gulf Coast where one John Havens had record of a land entry, dated 1802, on the Pascagoula River. This John Havens, known to his descendants as "Grandpap" Havens, is designated in these chronicles as John Havens, III.

From John Havens, III, and his children, the story has been handed down of the trek of John Havens, Jr., and his family, from Northern Virginia to the Gulf Coast between the years 1782 and 1800, when his youngest child, Elizabeth Flurry, was born. He died soon thereafter. This ~~xxxxxx~~ southward movement seems to have taken several years, farming year by year searching for a permanent location; just when it began and when it ended is not known except within the limitations indicated. During this period the children had increased from one to eleven.

2. John Havens, Jr., died and was buried at Mobile between 1800 and 1802. The family then moved to the west side of Pascagoula River and the land entry at Poticaw Landing bears the date 1802; there the wife, whose name is not known, was buried.
3. John Havens, III, b. 1775 in Va.; d. 1855 and buried ten miles north of Poticaw at the Haven-Fletcher cemetery; m. Susan Flurry, d. 1826, buried on the east side of Pascagoula River.

Havens Family

H A V E N S

The Havens clan of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by all records and traditions came to this area from Virginia. The names Haven, Havens, De Haven, and Van der Hoeven are variants of the same family name as they occur on the continent of Europe. The name Havens early appears in Belgium and a persistent tradition among present day Havens families is that the origin of their ancestral line was in the Low Countries of Europe. A will by one Stephen Haven in Westmoreland County, Va., in 1816, indicates that they came to America by way of England, since he willed property in that country.

In 1773, one John Havens and his sons, John, Jr., and Joel, received a lease for one hundred acres of land located in Frederick Co., Va., from Thomas Lord Fairfax. This lease stipulated that one hundred apple trees should be planted, properly fenced and pruned. The location of this lease was in Virginia's great apple orchard country of today. This lease, according to British law, was for the life time of the recipients. However, the American Revolution brought Virginia under American law and threw all these leases into litigation.

The 1782 census of Frederick County, Va., listed John Havens, Sr., in a family of eight and John Havens, Jr., in a family of three with no other Havens families in this Virginia census. Then the official records skip some twenty years and from Virginia to the Mississippi Gulf Coast where one John Havens had record of a land entry, dated 1802, on the Pascagoula River. This John Havens, known to his descendants as "Grandpap" Havens, is designated in these chronicles as John Havens, III.

From John Havens, III, and his children, the story has been handed down of the trek of John Havens, Jr., and his family, from Northern Virginia to the Gulf Coast between the years 1782 and 1800, when his youngest child, Elizabeth Flurry, was born. He died soon thereafter. This southward movement seems to have taken several years, farming year by year searching for a permanent location; just when it began and when it ended is not known except within the limitations indicated. During this period the children had increased from one to eleven.

HAVENS FAMILY BIBLE

Columbia Township, Bradford County, Pennsylvania

Statement written by Charles Haven at a reunion at his home in 1868 in Havenss Family Bible*

Memorandum of a few early events in my life to my children on my 64th Birthday. I was born in the town of Sullivan, Chesire County, New Hampshire on February 22, 1804. My father's name was John Haven and my mother Abigail Fay. I, with my father's family of six sons and one of two daughters moved to the wilderness of Pennsylvania in early winter of 1815 when I was eleven years old. We came on two sleds, one drawn by a pair of horses, the other by two heavy yoke of oxen. We found good sleighing the whole distance. One horse team made the trip in fifteen days, but the oxen team took eighteen days. My father and two brothers came the year before, summer of 1814, bought a possession and built a log house. Chopped and cleared five acres and sowed wheat, it was about where Charlie Smith's barn is now and on the little flat above the barn at the foot of the hill farther west. This we harvested the first summer. Also chopped, cleared and sowed to wheat ten acres near the Haven schoolhouse and as far south as a row of apple trees that Nahum Haven planted. Our nearest grist mill was Long's Mill near Troy, PA., nine or ten miles distance. Nearly all the way was woods. I commenced to chop and clear my farm when I was twenty years old and married Clarissa Dart, formerly from Vermont, but then of Charleston, Tioga County, Pennslyvania, the 23rd day of February 1826. Settled on my farm and here since. I have hauled wheat to Elmira, New York 20 miles and sold it at 0.62 to 0.69 cents per bushel to pay for land that cost in it's wild state at $3.00 per acre. I have done nothing but regular farming: was never a speculator and consequently was obliged to be economical and work hard as well as my wife and my family. I am 64 years old today and feel my work is almost done.. Signed 22 January 1868 by Charles Haven

A copy of this was given to me by my uncle, apparently copied from a family bible. Charles Haven (or Havens) was not a direct ancestor of ours, but could have been a brother or cousin of my 3rd Great Grandfather John Havens who was born around 1815 (11 years after Charles).

The "s" may have been added to the name Haven later on.. Submitted by Lauren Welty Tennent. Note from Joyce M. Tice: Charles died on Feb 15, 1868 shortly after writing this document summing up his life.ys

HAVENS

The Havens clan of the Mississippi Gulf Coast by all records and traditions came to this area from Virginia. The names Haven, Havens, De Haven, and Van der Hoeven are variants of the same family name as they occur on the continent of Europe. The name Havens early appears in Belgium and a persistent tradition among present day Havens families is that the origin of their ancestral line was in the Low Countries of Europe. A will by one Stephen Haven in Westmoreland County, Va., in 1816, indicates that they came to America by way of England, since he willed property in that country.

In 1773, one John Havens and his sons, John, Jr., and Joel, received a lease for one hundred acres of land located in Frederick Co., Va., from Thomas Lord Fairfax. This lease stipulated that one hundred apple trees should be planted, properly fenced and pruned. The location of this lease was in Virginia's great apple orchard country of today. This lease, according to British law, was for the life time of the recipients. However, the American Revolution brought Virginia under American law and threw all these leases into litigation.

The 1782 census of Frederick County, Va., listed John Havens, Sr., in a family of eight and John Havens, Jr., in a family of three with no other Havens families in this Virginia census. Then the official records skip some twenty years and from Virginia to the Mississippi Gulf Coast where one John Havens had record of a land entry, dated 1802, on the Pascagoula River. This John Havens, known to his descendants as "Grandpap" Havens, is designated in these chronicles as John Havens, III.

C. E. Cain - Four Centuries on the Pascagoula
Vol II

From John Havens, III, and his children, the story has been handed down of the trek of John Havens, Jr., and his family, from Northern Virginia to the Gulf Coast between the years 1782 and 1800, when his youngest child, Elizabeth Flurry, was born. He died soon thereafter. This southward movement seems to have taken several years, farming year by year searching for a permanent location; just when it began and when it ended is not known except within the limitations indicated. During this period the children had increased from one to eleven.

IV. PERIOD OF SETTLEMENT—SPANISH, 1779-1810.

- 1779. Spain in the Revolutionary War took from England all of East and West Florida but permitted all settlers to retain their land holdings provided they would take the oath of allegiance to the King of Spain and the Catholic Church. Many settlers remained and practically no Spanish settlers came in under the new regime.
- 1780. Pensacola continued as the capital of West Florida and all settlers on the Pascagoula had to go there to transact any legal business.
- 1789. Land claim of Pierre Krebs bears this date.
- 1791. Land claim of Joseph Raby on the Pascagoula Bay.
- 1794. Land claims of Isabelle Glaude and Helen Moro on Pascagoula Bay.
- 1798. When the thirty-first parallel was surveyed as the boundary between the American and Spanish holdings, some settlers above the line were so anti-American and pro-British that they moved below the line, choosing Spanish instead of American rule.
- 1799. Simon Cumbest entered land near Escatawpa and Joseph S. Moore at Fountainebleau.
- 1800. James White settled White's Point, where Gautier now stands. Later, White, under American rule, was given permission to lay out a town to be known as Whiteville; later permission was given to change the name to Pascagoula.
- ✓ 1802. John Havens settled at Poticaw Landing, having lived formerly at Mobile.
- 1803. Land claim of Elizabeth Wilson on Pascagoula Bay.
- 1803. James Ware settled at Martin's Bluff. Later under American rule he was given permission to lay out a town to be known as Jacksonborough.
- 1803. The Kemper brothers staged an unsuccessful revolution around Baton Rouge against Spanish rule. There are no records to show that there was any disturbance along the Pascagoula.
- 1804. The Kemper rebellion caused the Spaniards to tighten up on all land ownership and on all travel in their territory. A general order went out from Governor Folch to all alcaldes and syndics to be sure that another war could not get started.
- 1804. In spite of Spanish restrictions, American settlers poured down from north of the American lines, believing that the next revolution would succeed.

V. TRANSITION PERIOD—1810-1812.

- 1810. September 23. Baton Rouge, the headquarters of the Spanish government on the Mississippi River, stormed by revolutionists and the lone star flag of the Republic of West Florida raised.
- 1810. September 26. Declaration of independence by convention of West Florida in assembly at St. Francisville.
- 1810. October 10. A committee of the convention issued an appeal to the people of Mobile and Pensacola, and sent Reuben Kemper and Joseph White to bring about united action between the eastern and western parts of West Florida.
- 1810. October 26. A new declaration of independence and a constitution issued from St. Francisville, the new capital. A president and all other necessary officers elected.
- 1810. October 27. The President of the United States issued a proclamation annexing West Florida as part of the Louisiana Purchase. The West Florida officials denied the rights of the United States and refused compliance.
- 1810. November 2. Sterling Dupree, one of the leaders on the Pascagoula, began a war of looting the inhabitants at the mouth of Pascagoula River.
- 1810. November 10. Thirty-four settlers on the upper Pascagoula issued a declaration of independence from Spanish rule and of adherence to the West Florida republic. Sterling Dupree was elected leader.

1810. December 3. George Farragut arrived at Pascagoula and found the flag of the convention floating everywhere. He had been sent by Governor Claiborne of the Territory of Orleans, to which West Florida had been assigned by the President of the United States in his proclamation.
1810. December 5. Dupree and Major Hargreaves, who had been assigned by Kemper to assist Dupree, began looting in Pascagoula. They seized three schooners belonging to J. B. Budreau, Anthony Krebs, and Augustine, a mulatto. Into these schooners they loaded the loot from the home of the late John B. Nicolet and from that of Joseph Krebs, the Spanish syndic.
1810. December 7. The United States by show of force at Baton Rouge took over the West Florida area in spite of the protests of the officers of the new republic. The United States flag was raised on the Mississippi, but not on the Pascagoula till a month later.
1810. December 10. The loader schooners mentioned above, the loot variously estimated from $12,000 to $30,000, were carried up the Pascagoula to Dupree's plantation just below the boundary. While leaving they were attacked by a small band of Pascagoula citizens, some 13 in number, but the attackers were repulsed with one killed and others wounded.
1810. December 13. Pierre Nicola, having been commissioned a captain by Dupree, was in charge at Pascagoula when Farragut returned to New Orleans. Sgt. James Havens was seen at Pass Christian summoning the citizens along the coast to repair to Pascagoula to swear allegiance to the convention.
1810. December 20. Joseph Raby, a sailing master from Pascagoula, had to get a passport from Peter Nicola.
1810. December ? Kemper from Fort Stoddard planned and carried out an attack on Mobile. Soldiers were recruited locally but supplies were brought from Baton Rouge. The Americans, because of some rum in the supplies, were easily defeated, and the Spaniards sent those taken prisoners to Havana.
1810. December ? Judge Toulmin, the federal judge at St. Stephens, issued warrants for the arrest of Dupree and Hargreaves for their parts in the raids at Pascagoula and at Mobile, but their activities were so popular that no one could be found to serve the warrants.

On the reverse side of the "pole" sheets were the tallies of votes without any indication as to the offices for which any man was running. The tally showed, H. Toulman, 52; Theodore Brightwell, 0; Cowles Mead, 0; Wm. Lattimore, 0; T. R. Read, 52. From other sources it was found that the first two were up for the legislature, and the last three for Congress.

Two facts about this election are very remarkable, and probably seldom, if ever, duplicated. The first is that these men by some process reached an agreement and voted unanimously. This probably could not have been done if any of the candidates had lived in the county.

The other remarkable thing is the distance some of these men traveled in order to cast their ballots. James Ware lived at Ware's Bluff, now known as Martin's Bluff, and John Cumbest lived just across the river from him at what is now Moss Point. If they went up the west side of the river, they had to cross ferries on Bluff Creek, Red Creek, Black Creek, and probably the river, a round trip on horseback or on foot of over sixty miles, just to vote.

Ware and Cumbest had both lived under Spanish rule, with no voting privileges, and were showing their appreciation. Also, the representative was the only county officer elected, the others being appointed by the legislature; hence the choice of a legislator determined all officers.

habited by the Biloxi Indians when the French first arrived, and the Biloxis have recently been classified as belonging to the same Indian families as the Sioux Indians of the far northwest. It would be interesting to know how this name became applied to this location.

On some of the earlier maps there was shown on the east side of Pascagoula River between the mouth of Escatawpa River and the Gulf an indentation called Lake Catahoula. Since this place name occurs several times in Louisiana, its meaning has been traced. It seems to be derived from the words, Okhata, "lake," and hullo, "beloved."

"Boguehoma" was the well-known name for Red Creek on the west side of the Pascagoula, bogue or bok meaning creek, and humma, red. Yet on some of the earlier maps this creek was shown as Cedar Creek, probably an error of the map maker.

In like manner Black Creek was Bogalusa, the last part meaning black.

Cedar Creek on the east side of the Pascagoula probably was named for the growth of cedar trees mentioned by Gayarre as having been blown to pieces by the storm of 1772.

Fort Bayou or Old Fort Bayou was named from its proximity to the first French establishment at Fort Maurepas.

Bienville records that about 1711, a French Canadian by the name of Graveline migrated with his large family to Mobile. Peter Hamilton mentions him and says that a bay on Dauphine Island bears his name. Was our Bayou Graveline named for him or some of his descendants?

Moungers Creek was named for John Mounger, who was a taxpayer as early as 1817 and had many cattle that ranged on the creek that bears his name. A tributary of Moungers Creek is Jack's Creek, named for Jack Havens, who lived on it and managed Mounger's cattle for him.

John's Bayou, seat of some of the early stores which later moved to Vancleave, was named for a Dutchman, John Bobinger, commonly known as Dutch John. He married Taniese Ladnier and has many descendants around Vancleave.

Probably the best known road in Jackson County, before the Old Spanish Trail was laid out, was the Old Wire Road, which passed through the northern part of the county on its way from Mobile to New Orleans. It ran almost due west from Mobile till it struck the Pascagoula River at Brewton, and then swerved a little northwest to avoid the headwaters of certain streams.

14. BRIEF HISTORY OF VANCLEAVE, JACKSON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI¹⁰

The village of Vancleave evidently was named for one Robert Adrian Van Cleave, who ran a store there from 1869 to 1872. Mr. Van Cleave, a Confederate veteran, came to Ocean Springs from Hinds County in 1867; two years later he established a mercantile business at what was then known as Bluff Creek, and continued there for three years. In 1872 he move back to Ocean Springs and became postmaster there for the period 1872-1882. Also he was mayor of the town for a while.

Three attempts were made to run post offices at what is now Vancleave before success was attained. The post office of Bluff Creek was established in 1869 with Andrew W. Ramsay as postmaster. It was discontinued after a little over a year. The second post office was known as Vancleave's, and had Hector Fairley, a colored man, as postmaster. It was established in 1870 and lasted only four months. The third and successful attempt came in 1880 with the present name of Vancleave, with George W. Davis, another Confederate veteran, as postmaster. The postmasters to follow Mr. Davis in the next forty years were: Sherwood Bradford, Cleburne Havens, Willie P. Ramsay, John W. Westfall, and William Martin.

The first post office in all Jackson County was in the northeast area of this district at what is now known as Brewton or White's Camp. This office, Jackson Courthouse, was established in 1821, and continued there till the courthouse was moved across Pascagoula River to Americus in 1826. The second post office in the county was established at Pascagoula in 1829, and the third at Ocean Springs in 1853. That part of Jackson County west of the Pascagoula River had no post office service from 1826 till 1853.

The first American settler in the Vancleave area was John Havens, a Virginian, whose land claims bears the date 1802, eight years before the West Florida rebellion which freed this area from Spain. This land was on Poticaw. The second land entry was that of James Ware in 1804 below the mouth of Bluff Creek, but the decendants of James Ware now live in the Vancleave area. These settlers were followed before Mississippi became a state in 1817 by people whose names still survive in any voting list or church roll examined in the Vancleave area. Some of these are: Broadus, Byrd, Cates, Carter, Fletcher, Goff, Flurry, Ramsay, Ladnier, Roberts, etc., etc.

¹⁰ Written for the celebration when a telephone exchange was installed at Vancleave.

The first stores were nearer Pascagoula River in the John's Bayou area. These merchants were engaged chiefly in supplying charcoal burners, turpentine workers, and log haulers. Many of these merchants owned their own schooners, which not only carried their charcoal to New Orleans, but also brought their merchandise directly to them at a cheap freight rate. Later, these merchants began moving their stores to what is now Vancleave, and some of those later or contemporary with Van Cleave and George Davis were: Andrew Ramsay, Willis Broadus, Harry Woodman, William Martin, Thomas C. Ruble, and the Westfalls. These are listed from memory and may leave out many others earlier.

Pascagoula District, 12th November, 1810

Colonel Kemper—Sir—From viewing our situation, We the inhabitants of this River have found it highly necessary to fall on a plan to protect our rights, as those who were appointed by the former government to exercise justice over this district, have deviated so far from that—they are not to be trusted as friends to us. This, Sir, is the reason of our applying to you; for which purpose we have appointed John H. Gray our agent as a man well calculated for that business. Mr. Gray will present to you the proceedings of our settlement on Saturday last, and on his fidelity you may rely and by him you can receive any further instructions, also to communicate to him whatever you may think will conduce to our safety or be of utility to your plan. Accept, sir, of our best wishes for the prosperity of your undertaking and consider us your friends.

(Signed) Sterling Dupree

"The proceedings of our settlement on Saturday last" carried to Baton Rouge by John H. Gray were as follows:

We whose names are hereunto annexed for our safety and protection and for obtaining the benefits of laws and regulations equal and just which for some time passed we have been deprived, we do feel it a duty we owe ourselves and our families to adopt such methods as best may secure so desirable an object, and as our fellow citizens of Baton Rouge have organized themselves into a form of government on pure republican principles calculated to secure the happiness of the people. Under these impressions we think proper to declare ourselves guided by the regulation and actuated by the same principles—and shall proceed to elect the officers from among us whose duty it shall be to form such regulations as shall (be) conformable to the principles of the Convention of Baton Rouge; said officers or commanding officers shall be empowered to send dispatches and hold a correspondence with the Commander-in-Chief, or such commissioner or commissioners as may be appointed by that assembly and make them acquainted with our intentions and obtain their protection.

Mrs. Dunbar Rowland gives a roster of some six thousand Mississippians who took part in this war. Some of these rolls are evidently re-enlistments, since the names of some well-known men occur on more than one list. However, a comparison of her lists with all available lists from what is now Jackson and George Counties, but which then was Jackson County, yields only some seventy names more or less certainly of people living on the Pascagoula. The list used as a basis of comparison has been compiled from the following sources: Voting lists, tax lists, and state and national census returns which bore dates of 1813, 1814, 1815, 1817, 1818, 1820, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, and 1828. RED HILL METHODIST CHURCH

1837 - 1937

By

J. B. Cain

One hundred years ago! How much has happened since our forefathers met and formed Red Hill church, erecting the first building on this same spot! In order to understand the situation then, we must go back even beyond that time. In 1837 the State of Mississippi was twenty years of age, with a territorial history of about that length of time also. For more than forty years a stream of settlers had come from the older states to make their home in Mississippi. The earlier settlements were mainly along the Mississippi, the Pearl, and the Tombigbee rivers. What is now the territory of Jackson county was not a part of the Mississippi Territory till 1812. The county was formed soon afterward with the courthouse about a mile and a half south of where Red Hill church was afterward built, on a high bluff overlooking the Pascagoula river. Evidently the west side of the river did not settle as rapidly as was anticipated and after a few years the courthouse was moved to Americus, on the east side of the river, where the population was denser.

In 1837 Methodism had been in Mississippi nearly forty years and in Jackson county for about half that length of time. It is thought that the first Methodist preaching place in the county was at Salem campground, said to have been established in 1818, and which is now the oldest campground in the state. It is easy to understand why churches were formed first on the east side of the river. Most of the settlers came from Alabama, Georgia, and the Carolinas, and they made their way westward slowly. Mobile was the only trading place of any importance and it was much more convenient to live on the east side of the river. The courthouse did not remain long enough on the west side of the river for any large settlement to grow up around it. There were therefore, strong settlements and flourishing churches on the east side of the river when the west side was an almost unbroken pine forest. Eventually settlers began to cross over and build new homes, and when they did the Methodist preachers followed them with the gospel.

Red Hill was not the first preaching place on the west side of the river but it is now the oldest church on the same spot in the western part of Jackson county. Before Red Hill church was organized a church building stood about four miles north, near what was known as the "Wolf Pit". We do not know its name or its history. It was probably destroyed by fire but we do know that it had disappeared by 1836. This church and the courthouse on the west side of the river and the later church built and known as Red Hill were all located on the southernmost land route from Mobile to New Orleans. Along this road in 1849 was strung the first telegraph line in Mississippi and to the older people still living this road is the "Wire Road". The loss of the church at the Wolf Pit called for a new church and it was placed farther south to serve an increasing number of families who had settled in the vicinity of Dead Lake and Rice's Bluff.

In 1837 all the territory in Jackson county was included in a circuit called Chickasahay. It was a part of the Mobile district of the Alabama conference, which had been formed five years before by the General Conference of 1832. The circuit was about a hundred miles long and perhaps half that wide. It included all of the present territory of Jackson, George, and Greene counties with some churches outside of that area. The pastor was Job Foster. We do not know a great deal about Mr. Foster. He joined the Mississippi Conference in 1830 and served Crystal Springs as his first appointment. When the Alabama conference was organized he became a charter member of that body. He had served the Chickasahay circuit before this and at the close of this year was reappointed for the year 1838. At the end of that time he left the itinerant ministry and retired to the local ranks. Elisha Callaway was presiding elder of the district. It is doubtful if he visited Red Hill church during the first year of its history.

Only a few families lived in this neighborhood in 1837, and the original membership was small, perhaps not more than a dozen members. The whole circuit reported an increase of only twenty-five members during the year. The two families in the community whose names we know are those of Henry Fletcher and John Havens. The former had come from the Carolinas about 1817 and settled on the east side of Pascagoula river, where he had been active in promoting the interests of Methodism at Salem campground and other places. He had come to the west side of the river about six months before Red Hill church was organized and was active in the church from the beginning. He was a local preacher and was probably the first class leader of the church. His wife was Elizabeth Goff and many of their relatives settled also in Mississippi. John Havens was a native of Virginia who had settled in Jackson county prior to 1816. He was probably the first settler in this neighborhood. He had married Susan Flurry before coming to Mississippi and many of their relatives were also in this state. It is interesting to note that there has never been a day during the century just passed when some descendants of these two families have not been members of Red Hill church.

The first building erected by the new organization was made of logs and stood almost exactly on the spot where the present church stands. It was probably small and served the congregation for something like twenty years, when it was found necessary to build a larger building for the use of the growing congregation. A new church was built in the period just before the Civil War. It was also of logs and stood in front of the first church less than fifty yards. It was used also for school purposes after the war. No members of the church who worshipped in the first building are still alive and not a great many who became members while services were held in the second building. In 1892, while Rev. N. B. Young was pastor of the Vancleave circuit, a new church was begun here, the present building, and was completed soon after. It has been re-covered and painted since then and with proper repairs will last for many years. During changes in church buildings the original membership was increased by their descendants and by other families who came into the community. The principal family names in the church have been Fletcher, Havens, Graham, Dubose, Rice, Entekin, Tootle, Roberts, David, White, Holland, Cain, Carlisle, and others just as honorable but not quite as numerous.

The first Methodist preachers who preached at Red Hill church came on horseback, bringing their few worldly possessions in their saddlebags. These consisted of a Bible, a Discipline, a hymn book, and few scanty personal belongings. Services were held once each month but seldom on Sunday. Having a vast circuit it was necessary to have preaching each day in the week, except Monday, which was usually spent in rest. In addition to the regular preaching services by the pastor of the circuit there were also sermons by local preachers, class meetings by the class leader, and prayer meetings. Quarterly conferences were held occasionally at Red Hill and sometimes the presiding elder would hold a two-day meeting between engagements at other churches. Revivals of the modern sort were unknown but real spiritual awakenings were common. Funeral or memorial services were held often at the church following the burials at some former time at the family cemeteries.

Red Hill church has been in only two districts in its history: Mobile, 1837-70; Seashore, 1871-1937. It has, however, been in three annual conferences: Alabama, 1837-64; Mobile, 1865-70; Mississippi, 1871-1937. The name of the circuit has been changed seven times within the last century as the following will show: Chickasahay circuit, 1837-43; Pascagoula circuit, 1844-54; Black Creek mission, 1855-57; Ocean Springs circuit, 1858- ; West Pascagoula circuit, -74; White Plains circuit, 1875-77; West Pascagoula circuit, 1878-82; Vancleave circuit, 1883-1937.

Since Red Hill church has always been on a circuit and had preaching by the pastor not oftener than once a month, especially in its earlier history, the local preacher has loomed large in the spiritual affairs of the church. Six local preachers have held membership in Red Hill church: Henry Fletcher, Bryant Kice, Burniss Gray, Murdock David, and Cyril and Buford Cain. The first three were contemporary with each other, though the second and third were probably not licensed to preach till after the death of the first, and the last three were contemporary. Only two of this number ever joined the Annual Conference. In addition to these local preachers many others held services here. The list includes Irvin Roberts, Lyman R. Roberts, Jefferson H. Havens, W. W. Broom, John A. Flurry, Samuel E. Flurry, Griffin Alexander, John W. Roberts, James W. Broom, Eugene Flurry, C. J. Phillips, J. L. Carter, J. W. Hollingsworth, as well as preachers of other churches. It should be noted in passing that one of these local preachers, Lyman R. Roberts, for an unbroken period of four years held monthly services at Red Hill. Also, he was supply pastor for another period of years.

The list of pastors and presiding elders on another page reveals some interesting facts. Several pastors served the church more than once. Jefferson Bond was pastor four different times. John W. McCann, Perry K. Brinkley, David Merchant, and W. L. Blackwell each served two separate pastorates, the last for a total of five years, the longest pastorate of any one person. Only four pastors have served four years in succession. The first was John Stuart Calhoun, one of the most popular pastors the church ever had. The other three J. M. Lewis, W. L. Blackwell, and J. H. Grice, served twelve continuous years. Two faithful ministers, Thomas Price and Chas. F. Gillopie, served as pastor and as presiding elder.

GENEALOGICAL TABLES
of
Ancestry of Members of Red Hill Church

By C. E. and W. M. Cain

The tables herewith presented take into consideration so very many different items that it is extremely difficult to get the materials ready to be released. Many names and dates are not obtainable any more, or the places where they may be obtained are not known. The compilers have hesitated to put into print these tables in their present incomplete form and are doing so with a promise that revisions are to be made in the near future. It is hoped and believed that the publication of this booklet will bring forth enough additional information to call for an immediate revision.

In the tables it will be noted that many first names and sometimes complete names have been omitted. Many pertinent dates have not yet been obtained. Practically all those names and dates are available somewhere, either in family bibles, or on tombstones, or in court records. A little interest and effort on the part of those who have access to such records could add much to the completeness of what is here attempted. A copy of this booklet is to be placed in the archives of Jackson County and all additional information will be added to it. In the back of each booklet are blank pages on which any family can bring its own record down to date. If a copy of this family record were sent to the compilers named above, it would thus become a part of a permanent record.

It is impossible to mention by name each person who has furnished information used on these pages. Every person approached has been cordial and helpful. If more could have been interviewed many errors and omissions would have been avoided. However, fairness demands that two people be given the great credit due them. The first of these is the writers' mother, Mrs. Nettie (Fletcher) Cain, now seventy-seven years old. She has lived all her life near this church and has held her membership there all her church life. Names and dates, births, deaths, and marriages of the Havens, Fletcher, Ware, Rice, Dubose, Flurry, Roberts, and many other families would have been almost meaningless without her interpretation. For the ancestry of the Cain family, the same acknowledgment goes to John C. Cain, Jackson, Miss., now eighty years old. Without his help no coherent statement could have been made concerning the relationships of the present generation who trace their bloodlines to that family.

The compiling of these pages has been a labor of love and the pleasure has been marred only by the fact that much now forever unavailable, could have been recorded had this been undertaken twenty years ago.

In the biography of Hon. E. E. O'Neal, member of the legislature from Harrison County in 1920, appears the statement that his maternal grandparents were Wm. Rouse and Martha Flurry Rouse. Notes on Tables XI, XII, and XIII

From Mississippi Register, 1920, p. 248:

The father of Hugh Cain came from Ireland to Maryland where he died. His widow and three sons moved to South Carolina about 1760 where Hugh, one of the sons, married and reared his family.

From conversations with John C. Cain:

Allison Cain had two uncles who came west, one to North Mississippi and one to Louisiana.

It has been known all along that the Cains and Gibsons were related by blood but there are no written records as to how. It is faintly in some memories that Nancy Campbell's first husband, - - - Gibson, was a half-brother to Hugh Cain.

Nancy Campbell was not related to her second husband (Campbell).

Dear Miss Wood:

Thank you for all your efforts in my behalf. It looks like I will just have to forget about that Dupree/Kemper document; however, I still think if it ever turns up that a copy should be framed and hung on some wall in Jackson County.

If you ever learn of anyone else interested in Mississippi Havens, feel free to give them my name - or send me their name . . . maybe I could help them.

I have documentation that the John Havens Junior of Frederick County VA was NOT the ancestor of the Mississippi Havens, despite Cyril Cain's implications in that regard. That particular John Havens Junior went from VA to Mason/Fleming County KY, then died after 1840 in Rush County, IND. He had three sons who were famous Methodist preachers - Joel, b. 1781, John b. ca. 1787 and James b. 1791, (see Ind. Historical Magazine). Rev. James is said to be the fighting parson referred to in THE HOOSIER SCHOOLMASTER by Eggleston??. I read another book about this James but I can't remember the author or exact title; I think the author was Ross Phares and I know the words Bible and Gun were in the title. Something maybe like "Gun in one hand, Bible in the other." An interesting family - but not ours. Likely kin, however.

I understood that Dr. Jack Holmes was writing a book about early settlers of Alabama/Florida under English rule - or about the early settlement of Tories/loyalists on Lake Tensaw near Mobile ca. 1780-90, or Pensacola: Do you know anything about this - or can you find out?

Re. Mrs. Kocher's book: If her work purports to tie the Mississippi Havens into an earlier line, I would like to have a copy of that claim. She only sent me what appears to be a compilation of her research notes on the Havens name taken from widely-available publications - but nothing showing a connection between the many far-flung Havens.

Ask Miss Goff if she thinks our Goff line comes from William Goff, the Regicide, one of the judges who signed Charles I's death warrant, and who fled to this country at the Restoration.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,

Virginia H. Cochrane

Looking for any information on John HAVENS who was born in VA and died in Mobile 1800-1802. His son, also John Havens, moved to Mississippi with a land claim dated 1802 near Vancleave, Jackson County. I have him and his descendants pretty well documented but have nothing but the above info on his father and that from only one book. I would greatly appreciate any help!

Thanks
